

A space collision has occurred and knocked some tiles loose from the spacecraft. You need some rope to help repair the damage. Add 13 points to your total for each 25-foot length of rope that you chose to bring. If you did not choose rope, subtract 13 points.

Some of your water supply has become contaminated. Add 18 points to your score for each ten-gallon container of water and each case of soda that you chose to bring. If you did not choose any of these items, subtract 18 points from your score.

Members of the crew are becoming bored and morale is getting low. If you brought either video games, books or CD's, add 12 points to your score for each of these items, subtract 12 points from if you did not bring any of these items.

A medical emergency has occurred, and you have used up all of your original medical supplies. If you chose to bring an additional medical kit, add 21 points to your total. If you didn't choose it, subtract 21 points.

Due to bad weather conditions on Mars, your landing has been delayed, and you must have more food. Add 17 points to your score for each extra day's food supply or candy bars that you chose to bring. If you didn't choose extra food, subtract 17 points.

A meteor struck your ship and you lost a large oxygen tank. If you chose extra tanks, add 19 points to your score for each tank you have. If you did not choose extra oxygen, you must subtract 19 points from your total.

Some of your Equipment is not working well, and you must repair it. But some of your tools are missing. Add 15 points to your total for each extra tool kit that you chose to bring. If you did not choose to bring extra tools, subtract 15 points.

You need to contact members of your party who are on a repair detail outside the ship. If you chose to bring the close-range communication system, add 14 points to your total. If you did not, subtract 14 points.

During maneuvers outside the spacecraft, some of your space suits were torn. Add 16 points for each extra space suit that you chose to bring. Subtract 16 points if you did not choose to bring extra space suits.

